

YOUR AMBITION, OUR CHALLENGE

YOUR FUTURE IN ENGINEERING

Thanks to its focus on innovation, many scientific research institutes and open markets, the Netherlands scores high as a knowledge economy. After 'Brainport Eindhoven' garnered such accolades as 'the smartest square kilometre in Europe' and 'most patent applications per capita', many other technology regions in the Netherlands followed suit – with more and more innovations growing into global successes! These developments call for talented individuals with a passion for technology. Are you an engineer who can make a difference to our clients? YER Technology offers you the opportunity to work at leading and innovative organisations. You will be employed by YER and seconded to our clients. In addition to an attractive package of employment conditions, we offer:

Excellent career opportunities

Over the past years, we have secured a strong position in the Dutch technology sector and built a large network in various disciplines, including high tech, automotive, marine, oil & gas and manufacturing. The demand for technical talent continues to rise. YER Technology is responding to this trend by also recruiting highly qualified specialists internationally. We are currently the proud employer of hundreds of engineers from over 50 different countries. We offer excellent opportunities to engineers who are up to an innovative challenge at leading Dutch organisations.

Intensive personal guidance

Our consultants take the time to get to know you better. During our introductory meeting with you, we will map out your personal wishes in detail. By using these as points of departure for your future projects, you will do work which is best suited to you and our clients will remain satisfied ambassadors. There are many aspects to an international career. That is why we assist you with all issues you may encounter, including administrative issues (visa, working permit, citizen service number, bank account, tax-related affairs), and relocation (finding a house, registration with a municipality). Our personal approach sets us apart. We are always at your service – including in the evenings and on weekends!

Professional career coaching

We give you thorough and valuable advice so that you can excel. Our consultants have an average of over five years' experience in employment services and/or an extensive knowledge of the work and developments within your specialisation. In other words, we are a high-level sparring partner that can give your career the right boost. Not only do you receive career assistance from our consultants, you are also given the opportunity to participate in a personal coaching programme conducted by a professional career coach.

Ample room for development

Are you ambitious and do you strive to get the best out of yourself? We give you room for personal growth! In the coaching programme, you shape your personal development and improve your competencies. Our coach takes stock of the steps you want to take and specific goals are assigned based on these. It is possible, for instance, to take profession-oriented training courses or a complete training programme. We also provide Dutch lessons for our international professionals. Together, we get the most out of your career.

Inspiring network meetings

We frequently organise inspiring master classes in which experts from the field share their knowledge about current developments and interesting themes within the broad field of technology. These meetings are well attended by your international YER colleagues and are a great way to enrich your knowledge, network and socialise with colleagues!

*Would you like to get in touch with YER Technology?
Make an appointment with a consultant, submit your CV or apply for one of our current or permanent job openings at yer.nl/tech*

Focus on you